On Sunday, November 6th Jason Lind charged his organization with executing an event, in one week, to inspire and transform the city of Milwaukee. Milwaukee: Architects of the Future Since 1846. All Milwaukeeans know that we live in the greatest city on earth, that we have always been the forward thinkers in the United States and today it is our time to show the world that we can work together we can accomplish in a week what would take any other city years.

On Wednesday, November 9th Jason Lind ran around the city, without spending any money, promoting this project at Marquette University High School, Marquette University and City Hall. He proposed the MUHS students under the direction of MU student leaders have a field week to prepare the Posner building for this historic event. People called him delusional and too aggressive and even suggested he be institutionalized for his bold vision and behavior; however this event is happening and the city is behind it even if some of its leadership is not.

Not breaking any laws or rules Jason used his business card in lieu of money to eat, ride the bus and take the Amtrak Hiawatha from and back to Chicago. The people of Milwaukee simply rallied behind the idea and normal everyday people were willing to make exceptions to ensure this project gets off the ground.

Presentation and Venture Capital Fundraiser, 7:00 PM

Lind Innovation has two rules: all work is bilaterally assigned and everyone involved in a project has real equity. This fund will be used to not only build the Milwaukee Private Library and related organizations but also to invest in promising student and community projects. This is a for profit fund that will target short term and long term opportunities that advance the mission of Lind Innovation.
